What is the Coastal Bend India Association (CBIA)?

CBIA is a non-profit, non-political, religious-cultural organization, registered under IRS Section 501(C)(3), with a strong emphasis on community service. It was launched on January 27, 1990 in Corpus Christi, Texas. The Association celebrates a variety of functions to preserve and promote our traditional culture and values, and participates in the City's folk festivals and multicultural activities. We also engage in volunteer activities with hospitals and other charitable organizations, and in various community service-oriented programs such as Operation Paintbrush and Kids' Place, to give a few examples.

1. Goals

A hard-working and accomplished Indian community resides in the Coastal Bend area of Texas. The Coastal Bend India Association ('Association') aims to offer its members the advantages of a joint endeavor by pooling resources and diverse skills to represent and contribute to society at large.

2. Group Effort

Members, with their experience, took cognizance of the unique characteristics of the Indian mind while forming the Association. Their pursuit of excellence brings tremendous talent to the Association. The ideal of karma-yoga inspires members to exert selfless efforts for the community.

3. Cultural Legacy

The second generation adds another important dimension: passing on culture and ideals to the youth, fostering pride and strength to contribute to American society.

4. Education

Indian culture emphasizes devotion to education. CBIA continues this legacy by promoting educational excellence and cultural pride.
